

Movies

TV

Books

Gaming

Social Media

Parents' Guides

Tips &amp; FAQs

Celebrating Community

- View
- Edit
- Revisions
- Translate

Parents' Guide to

Girl Scouts: A World for Girls

 Rate SaveWebsite | <http://www.girlscouts.org/forgirls/>Common Sense
SaysParents Say
0 ReviewsKids Say
1 Review

Common Sense Media Review

By Erin Brereton, based on child development research. How do we rate?

You May Also Like...

Want personalized picks for your kids' age and age 5+ ★★★★★

A few fun, safe activities, plus links to buy merchandise.

The Kid S...

✓ age 6+

See all recommended website lists

Common Sense Media's unbiased ratings are created by expert reviewers and aren't influenced by the product's creators or by any of our funders, affiliates, or partners.

See how we rate

Parents Need to Know

Parents need to know that Girl Scouts: A World for Girls is a safe site for kids. The site also includes links to LMK, a site by Girl Scouts and Windows that features information about online privacy, cyberbullying, and more -- written by teen girls. If they create an account, girls can also post comments -- but nothing appears on the site before moderators approve it. Under the CCPA law you have the right to protect your personal information. Make a Do Not Sell request to Girl Scouts. >

Why Age 5+?

Products & Purchases ●●●●●

The site is sponsored by the Girl Scouts and most pages feature a link to the online store that sells uniforms, books, and other items.

Drinking, Drugs & Smoking

Not present

Language

Not present

The words that can be entered in the make-your-own-art tool involve pre-determined phrases like "Great job" and "I love you."

Sex, Romance & Nudity

Not present

Violence & Scariness

Not present

Any Positive Content?

Positive Messages ●●●●●

Much like the organization, the Girl Scout site emphasizes positivity, learning, and self-empowerment.

Educational Value ●●●●●

Kids can learn about exploring the world near and far through activities, games, videos, and book recommendations tailored to their age.

They can view videos about travel, social responsibility, and staying active physically and mentally. A variety of print-and-play games and creative DIY activities encourage kids to step away from the screen and try something new . Kids can discover interesting travel destinations through videos and slideshow, and blogs cover a range of topics from the arts to science and technology. A World for Girls is an interactive, interesting stop that encourages exploration and engages girls of all ages.

Parent and Kid Reviews

Parents Say

Kids Say (1)

There aren't any parent reviews yet. Be the first to review this title.

☆ Rate Website

What's It About?

With a few activities plus information on a handful of topics -- like world cultures, financial literacy, and a healthy planet -- A World for Girls does a good job of reinforcing the values and themes of the Girl Scouts. Bite-sized and very visual, the blog-like posts will give your Girl Scout a positive, online space to explore.

Is It Any Good?

Our review:

Parents say :

Not yet rated (Rate Website)

Kids say (1):

The general vibe of A WORLD FOR GIRLS is great: Videos show girls discussing how swimming has taught them endurance, a travel section showcases trips girls have taken around the world. Girls are generally encouraged to get out, experience life, learn — and have fun. The site also offers activities for three age groups: girls 5-9, 10-12, and 13-17. Each section's customized content offers girls some fun options: Younger girls can access an online coloring book, and tweens will be thrilled with the just-for-fun personality quizzes.

The site's only real drawback is that there isn't a ton in each section to do. For example, the 5-9 section only has one activity. However, for parents who hope their kids will log in some outdoors time, too (which the Girl Scouts would certainly approve of), that may not be a bad thing.

Talk to Your Kids About ...

- Families can talk about how Girl Scouts are told to be honorable and work hard. Whether or not you're a Girl Scout, how can you work to do both those things in your life?
- The site features a number of online tools that let you color and draw. How else can you express your creativity on this site -- and offline?
- The site's travel section showcases how some Girl Scouts have taken trips to faraway places. What kind of things can you learn from traveling to new places? Where would you like to go?

Website Details

Subjects : Social Studies : cultural understanding, geography, global awareness,

Language & Reading : following directions, reading

Skills : Thinking & Reasoning : asking questions, problem solving, solving puzzles

Genre : Brand Sites

Pricing structure : Free

Show more ▼

Did we miss something on diversity?

Research shows a connection between kids' healthy self-esteem and positive portrayals in media. That's why we've added a new "Diverse Representations" section to our reviews that will be rolling out on an ongoing basis. You can help us help kids by suggesting a diversity update.

Common Sense is dedicated to improving the lives of kids and families by providing the trustworthy information, education, and independent voice they need to thrive.

We're a nonprofit. Support our work

About

- Our Work and Impact
- How We Work
- Diversity & Inclusion
- Meet Our Team
- Board of Directors
- Board of Advisors
- Our Partners
- Our Offices
- Press Room
- Annual Report
- Contact Us

Learn More

- Common Sense Media
- Common Sense Education
- Digital Citizenship Program
- Family Engagement Program
- Privacy Program
- Research Program
- Advocacy Program

Get Involved

- Donate
- Join as a Parent
- Join as an Educator
- Join as an Advocate
- Get Our Newsletters
- Request a Speaker
- Partner With Us
- Events
- We're Hiring

Follow Common Sense Media

- Facebook
- Twitter
- Instagram
- YouTube
- LinkedIn

Search Common Sense Media

Find movies, books, and more ...

Subscribe to our newsletters

Add your email to get started.